Farmingville, NY – On September 15, Councilwoman Jane Bonner joined Girl Scout Troop 770 at the Robert Reid Recreation Center in Shoreham for their community gardening project. To earn the Gardener Badge, a Girl Scout must visit a garden, explore garden design, find plants that will grow together, experiment with seeds and help with a community garden.

Councilwoman Bonner said, "Thanks to the Girl Scouts from Troop 770, it will be a very colorful fall in the garden at Robert Reid Recreation Center. It really was a beautiful day to work in the garden and they all did such a great job."
